OUGHT TO BE DONE.

There are two things that oughtto be one in regard to our railroad bond in- form at Ludington, Mich. that the county commissioners ought the Henly regatta. to be authorized by the vote of the people to sell our stock in the Missouri Pacific railroad. The stock market is now at an excited and inflated pitch. At last quotaions, June 9, this stock was rated at from 50% to 51%. It may go a little higher, and it may go a good deal lower. The commissioners ought to be in shape to take advantage of the highest rate they can get, on short notice, or to sell ediately if the price begins to decline. It seems to us the proposition to

P DRY GOODS. For any firm engaged in a legitimate mercantile business to advertise what they cannot perform is folly; it is worse than throwing money away, for they lose by such a course not only the cost of printing but also the goodwill of the public on whose confidence they must depend for trade. None are better aware of this fact than
